

Academic discipline:
"Archaeology of Belarus"

Code and name of specialty	1-02 01 01 History and Social sciences
Training course	1
Semester of training	1
Number of class hours:	48
Lectures	20
Seminar classes	28
Practical classes	-
Laboratory classes	-
Form of current assessment (credit/differential credit/exam)	exam
Number of credits	3
Competencies to be formed	To know the basics of research activities, to search, analyse and synthesise information. To work in a team, to be tolerant of social, ethnic, confessional, cultural and other differences. To be capable of self-development and improvement in professional activities. To take the initiative and adapt to changes in professional activity. To have a humanistic outlook and the qualities of citizenship and patriotism.
Summary of the content of the academic discipline:
The discipline provides for the formation of theoretical knowledge and practical skills in the study of archaeological monuments, cultural phenomena and material phenomena. The discipline aims to create conditions for students to use the necessary methods for solving the problems of specific research, the ability to constant self-education, improvement and development of intellectual and general cultural level, following the norms of research ethics. The present discipline envisages the study of archaeology, spatially limited to the reference monuments on the territory of Belarus. The main emphasis is made on the study of settlements and burials of all eras, which allows the discipline to prepare highly qualified specialists for the domestic historical science.	