

Academic discipline:
"History of primitive society"

Code and name of specialty	1-02 01 01 History and Social sciences
Training course	1
Semester of training	1
Number of class hours:	48
Lectures	22
Seminar classes	18
Practical classes	-
Laboratory classes	-
Form of current assessment (credit/differential credit/exam)	exam
Number of credits	3
Competencies to be formed	To know the basics of research activities, to search, analyse and synthesise information. To work in a team, to be tolerant of social, ethnic, confessional, cultural and other differences. To be capable of self-development and improvement in professional activities. To take the initiative and adapt to changes in professional activity. To have a humanistic outlook and the qualities of citizenship and patriotism.
Brief content of the academic discipline:
The discipline examines the main points in the history of the primitive society: the preconditions for the emergence of man, the process of anthropogenesis, the conditions of human activity in the epoch of the primitive community, the early primitive community of hunters, gatherers and fishermen and in the late primitive community of farmers and pastoralists, reasons and preconditions for the decay of the primitive communal system and transition to the era of class formation. Analyses the process of development of human society in different epochs: Stone Age (Paleolithic, Mesolithic, Neolithic), Eneolithic, Bronze Age and Iron Age.	