

Academic discipline:
«General and social psychology»

Code and name of specialty	1-03 03 01 Logopaedics
Training course	1
Semester of training	1
Number of class hours:	72
Lectures	30
Seminar classes	38
Practical classes	-
Laboratory classes	-
Form of current assessment (credit/differential credit/exam)	exam
Number of credits	2
Competencies to be formed	To solve professional and personal development tasks, plan and implement professional development. To identify psychological facts, interpret psychological phenomena in a real socio-cultural environment and apply them for personal development. To use modern approaches to the understanding of human mental development in professional activity and for self-development.

Brief content of the academic discipline:

The structure of the study discipline "General and social psychology" has a systemic nature and includes five interrelated sections of consideration of psychology issues. The first section - Introduction to psychology - deals with the subject and methods of psychology as a science, human consciousness and activity. The second section, Cognitive sphere of the personality, is a consideration of the psychological basis of attention, sensation and perception, memory, imagination, thinking, and speech. The third section - Emotional-volitional sphere of the individual - is devoted directly to the study of emotions, feelings and will. The fourth section - Social psychology of personality - includes consideration of issues related to personality and its socialization, the orientation and self-consciousness of personality, personality and communication. The fifth section, Individual psychological features of personality, is a consideration of the psychological underpinnings of temperament, character and abilities.