

Name of the discipline:
"Introduction to Romano-Germanic Philology "

Specialty code and name	1-21 05 06 Romano-Germanic Philology
Year of study	1
Semester of study	1
Number of in-class academic hours	52
Lectures	26
Seminars	26
Practical classes	-
Laboratory classes	-
The form of the current assessment (credit / differentiated credit / exam)	credit
Number of credits	3
Emerging competencies	Have an idea of the main trends in the development of Romano-Germanic philology. Possess interdisciplinary approaches to solving professional problems, be able to use the basic methods of social sciences and humanities in cognitive activity.

Summary of the academic discipline:

The academic discipline "Introduction to Romano-Germanic Philology" is included in the module "Propaedeutic", which is a component of the institution of higher education of the curriculum of the specialty "1-21 05 06 Romano-Germanic Philology".

The content structure of the discipline "Introduction to Romano-Germanic Philology" has a complex character, includes eleven interrelated levels of consideration of the issues of the formation of Romano-Germanic philology. All thematic levels assume equally the theoretical form of presentation of the material, as well as the mastering of the material by students during practical classes. The wide coverage of the material involves consideration of both the historical foundations of the study of Romano-Germanic philology, and more specific material regarding specific subgroups of languages.