

Academic discipline:
«Theoretical sociology»

| | |
|---|--|
| Code and name of specialty | 1-23 01 15 Social Communications |
| Training course | 1 |
| Semester of training | 1 |
| Number of class hours: | 72 |
| Lectures | 36 |
| Seminar classes | 36 |
| Practical classes | - |
| Laboratory classes | - |
| Form of current assessment (credit/differential credit/exam) | exam |
| Number of credits | 4 |
| Competencies to be formed | Studying the discipline « Theoretical sociology » is to ensure the formation of basic professional competencies: to apply the theoretical apparatus of modern sociology to analyse social processes; to analyse ideological, socially and personally significant processes taking place in society. |
| Brief content of the academic discipline: | |
| «Theoretical sociology» – it is an academic discipline that is designed to contribute to the formation of a humanitarian culture and socially oriented thinking, the development of skills for critical analysis of sociological theoretical models and reflection of proposed practical solutions. Its content includes the following main issues: theoretical and methodological foundations of the sociology development; scientific theories in understanding the object and subject of sociology; conceptual apparatus, its role in the conceptualization of the subject area; social structures and social systems, society as a socio-cultural system; personality as a social system: subject and product of social relations; social institutions and institutional relations; values of evaluation and value orientations in the structure of personality and culture; mass consciousness and mass actions, social changes, sources of social tension; globalization of social processes in the modern world. | |