

Academic discipline:
«Human rights law»

Code and name of specialty	1-24 01 02 Jurisprudence
Training course	1
Semester of training	2
Number of class hours:	32
Lectures	20
Seminar classes	12
Practical classes	-
Laboratory classes	-
Form of current assessment (credit/differential credit/exam)	credit
Number of credits	2
Competencies to be formed	Mastering the academic discipline “Human rights law” should ensure the specialized competencies formation: to analyze the relationship in the human - society - state system, to use normative legal acts in the human rights field in practice.
Brief content of the academic discipline:
“Human rights law” is a discipline of the humanitarian and legal module choice, which includes the following topics: Formation and development human rights and freedoms concept; International system for the protection of human rights and fundamental freedoms; Personality, society, state: mutual rights, freedoms and obligations; Constitutional rights principles and fundamental freedoms; Civil legal regulation, political, social, economic rights and freedoms, rights and freedoms in the culture field in the Republic of Belarus; Institutional system for the human rights and freedoms protection in the Republic of Belarus; Legal forms of human rights protection in the Republic of Belarus; Legal support for the rights and freedoms protection of individual social groups; Responsibility for human rights violations. The discipline content is designed to provide: modern scientific ideas research about human and civil rights; typology analysis and human and civil rights types, freedoms and duties; international standards study in the fundamental human rights and freedoms field; basic theoretical calculations development regarding the universal international human rights and freedoms protection mechanism; legal regulation assimilation and the rights protection of individual social groups.	