Summary of the academic discipline:

Operational search activity is a state and legal means of protecting the life, health, rights, freedoms and legitimate interests of citizens, property, ensuring the security of society and the state from criminal attacks, carried out publicly and secretly by operational units of state bodies authorized to carry it out, within their competence.

At the legislative level, it is determined that the main direction of this activity is the protection of citizens, property, society and the state, in connection with which operational search activity has an exclusively state character, since it is aimed at collecting information on the facts of criminal activity, identifying hidden and concealed crimes, identifying the persons who committed them, as well as searching for escaped criminals, etc. Along with preliminary investigation and judicial consideration of criminal cases, it is one of the forms of implementing the law enforcement function of the state. At the same time, this activity is strictly controlled both in the context of ensuring the protection of the interests of society and the state, and guarantees of protecting citizens from unjustified criminal prosecution, infringement of their rights and freedoms during operational search activities. It can be carried out only in the manner and within the limits established by law.
