

Academic discipline:
"Fundamentals of business and law in information and communication technologies"

| | |
|---|--|
| Code and name of specialty | 1-40 01 01 Information technology software |
| Training course | 3 |
| Semester of training | 6 |
| Number of class hours | 86 |
| Lectures | 40 |
| Seminar classes | - |
| Practical classes | - |
| Laboratory classes | 46 |
| Form of current assessment (credit/differential credit/exam) | Exam |
| Number of credits | 6 |
| Competencies to be formed | To carry out basic economic and financial calculations, to determine the goals and ways of developing businesses and organizations in the field of information and communication technologies, using the legal acts of the Republic of Belarus regulating economic and business activities |
| Summary of the content of the academic discipline: | |
| The course "Fundamentals of business and law in information and communication technologies" is an independent branch of science, studies entrepreneurial and managerial activities in the field of information and communication technologies (ICT), the market of information services, software products, organizational and legal support for entrepreneurial and managerial activities in the ICT economy sector, management of ICT organizations, financial activities of ICT organizations, marketing and sales of ICT services and products, planning and organization of work, software development processes, cross-cultural aspects of entrepreneurship and management of the software product production process, etc. | |